City invests R101m in housing

CHARMEL PAYET

THE Executive Committee on Tuesday, 18 August 2015 approved additional funding of R101 million to ensure the first phase of the Cornubia Integrated Human Settlement Development would be completed. City Manager Sibusiso Sithole said funding had to be approved to ensure the City was able to meet their housing obligations which included the relocation of several identified transit camps at the site. "There is a sense of urgency in this matter as we have been dealing with it for months. If we don't find a solution we will sit with this infrastructure which will be wasteful expenditure which we don't want," he said. Cllr Nigel Gumede, Chairperson of the Human Settlements and Infrastructure Committee, said there is a demand for housing in the Municipality and government had the responsibility of providing the service. "We have identified a need and we must keep moving to provide this service," he said. The pilot phase, Phase 1A, was at an advanced stage with 482 top structures on fully serviced sites. The funding shortfall of R101 million is to ensure completion of the eight sub-phases in Phase 1, of which one, Phase 1B, was already at implementation stage. Additional funds are needed to complete Phase 1B. Currently three contractors are engaged with the implementation of 2 186 sites. Of this 803 sites are ready for top structure construction, 741 by another contractor will be completed this month while the third contractor will be implementing 642 serviced sites. Top structures will be completed by April next year. Attempts to find solutions to address the shortfall were reviewed. This included seeking additional funds to make up the shortfall or reducing tender prices. There are ongoing discussions between the Municipality and the National and Provincial Government to ensure funding for human settlements is prioritised.

CHARMEL PAYET

ETHEKWINI Municipality took the top prize at the Govan Mbeki Awards last week. The Municipality was named the Best Metropolitan Municipality in housing delivery, beating seven other metropolitan councils for the honour. The annual event recognizes municipalities and contractors that excel in the provision of decent human settlements in the country. The awards were named after the late struggle stalwart Govan Mbeki in 2006 to honour his contribution in the liberation struggle. EThekweni Mayor Cllr James Nxumalo said receiving the award was an honour.

CORNUBIA HOUSING DEVELOPMENT

"The City has delivered more than 180 000 housing opportunities and has built over 2 000 community residential units. We have also converted six hostels into family units," he said.

The Mayor said the City has facilitated 2 700 rental units through social housing institutions and provided over 2 000 affordable housing units for residents earning between R3 500 and R15 000 a month. A decision taken by the Executive Committee on Tuesday, 18 August 2015 further emphasized that the City means business when it comes to housing delivery. The Committee approved additional funding of R101 million to ensure the first phase of the Cornubia Integrated Housing Project would be completed. The massive housing project will see a mix of 73 000 low, middle and upper income houses built in the north of Durban.

Reclaiming bus services

CHARMEL PAYET

THE Durban Municipal bus service will now be run as a separate Municipal entity similar to the Chief Albert Luthuli International Convention Centre and uShaka Marine World. This was unanimously agreed upon at a special seating of Full Council held on Thursday, 13 August 2015 at Mpumalanga Sizakala Centre, G7 Shezi Main Road, Mpumalanga Township. The bus service is currently run by a private company. The second recommendation accepted at Council regarding the entity was that City Manager Sibusiso Sithole be authorised to invoke provisions of Section 84 of the Municipal Finance

DURBAN TRANSPORT BUSES

Management Act and ensure compliance. The Act outlines the establishment and the financial governance of a Municipal Entity and what processes are to be followed. The formation of the entity is now in the planning stages. Mayor James Nxumalo welcomed the decision and said all due processes were followed in reaching this decision. "We did not short circuit the process to correct what has happened in the past. We consulted community and labour who are important stakeholders in the transport sector," he said.

GUGU MDLALOSE

PLANS for the R16.5 billion uMkhomazi water project Phase 1 is at an advanced stage and once complete, it will be one of the largest water transfer schemes in South Africa. This is a multi-disciplinary project which is being undertaken by the Department of Water and Sanitation and Umgeni Water. The Human Settlements and Infrastructure Committee led by its Chairperson Cllr Nigel Gumede on Wednesday, 12 August 2015 visited sites where the proposed Smithfield Dam will be built near Ixopo. This Dam is expected to be complete by 2025.

The project will assist to adequately supply water to the Durban and Pietermaritzburg areas and will meet the long-term water requirements of almost five million domestic and industrial water users in both cities. "While the Umkhomazi water project is underway, work on the Western Aqueduct project, the City's biggest bulk water pipeline is progressing well and is on target for completion in 2017", said Gumede.

The 14 kilometre stretch of water pipeline extending from Inchanga Station to Alverstone Reservoir and then on to Ashley Drive in Kloof is now complete.

This was part of the 2nd phase of the project.

Gumede said this project will bring relief to the people of eThekweni who are facing water problems.

He added that the Metropolitan area is expanding and the water resource development will meet the demands.

The City is putting in place critical infrastructure that would have a major impact on the future of one of South Africa's most rapidly growing cities.

City creates empowerment opportunities for communities to the tune of R16.4 million

CHARMEL PAYET

NINETEEN community-based waste removal contractors have been given the opportunity to provide a service to the Umlazi community as part of the City's empowerment and mentorship programme.

The investment was approved by the Executive Committee on Tuesday, 18/08/2015.

The contractors will assist in collecting waste in Umlazi ensuring efficient service delivery in the area.

City Manager Sibusiso Sithole said local residents have been accommodated with the awarding of new contracts for waste removal in Umlazi which was critical to job creation.

He said this decision reflected radical economic empowerment for the Umlazi community.

It was also keeping in line with the Municipality's economic development strategies while promoting the ideal that people can find employment opportunities within their own communities.

An added benefit is that the contractors come from Umlazi and will see firsthand the fruits of their labour as they ensure the community, where they live, is kept clean while at the same time economically empowering themselves.

The contractors will service 19 wards in Umlazi currently not covered by major contractors.

As part of the mentorship programme, the appointed contractors will be mentored by the eight existing major contractors in the area over 21 months, from September 2015 until May 30, 2017 when contracts expire.

Design Delights at the Durban Fashion Fair 2015

NONDUDUZO NGCONGO and PAPANAMA DUNTSULA

FASHION lovers are urged to come out in numbers and support the province's premier annual fashion event, the Durban Fashion Fair (DFF) to be held on 26-29 August at the Sundeck in Suncoast Casino.

Deputy Mayor Nomvuzo Shabalala said "People need to refrain from believing in imported goods and buy tickets to support local designers in order to play a role in growing the City's economy."

This year's DFF has a number of new exciting features. Shabalala said for the first time ever, international designer, Jamal Taslaq Couture from Rome will be showcasing his work on the South African ramp.

DFF tickets are now available at Computicket at R100 per show and R50 for students.

THE Sustainable Living Exhibition has succeeded in turning a portion of eThekweni residents 'green' as it enlightened and emphasized nature's significance through conservation. Over 14 000 visitors streamed into the Durban Exhibition Centre this past weekend to enjoy the City's premier greening event.

The Expo was hosted by the eThekweni Municipality and KwaZulu-Natal Department of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs and was hailed a great success.

eThekweni Mayor, Cllr James Nxumalo expressed his happiness at people heeding the call to adopt a sustainable lifestyle. "One of the ways in which the Municipality is trying to encourage people to achieve the vision of eThekweni being Africa's most caring and liveable City by 2030 is by encouraging people to start taking action. That is why the Sustainable Living Exhibition was created, to showcase the things that various people, NGOs, schools and other government departments are doing to make our world a better place," he said. The Mayor encouraged all who live, work and play in eThekweni to start making a difference in their own lives, their neighbourhoods, their communities. Exhibitors showcased creative use of waste material, turning them into functional items. There was a wealth of knowledge shared on energy saving, water conservation, food gardens and health and wellness ideas.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Road Rehabilitation works in Bellair

THE Municipality is re-surfacing roads around the Bellair area in Ward 65.

The roadworks started this week and will continue until the beginning of September.

Construction work will be done during the day from 08h30 to 16h30. Road users can expect delays during the construction period and are advised to consider alternative routes.

Motorists are urged to be extremely cautious and be patient while travelling through the workzone.

Roads to be surfaced are: Ash Grove, George Codner Crescent, Tyne Grove, Coedmore Road and Seglen Drive.

Living beyond water shortages

WHILE there was fun and a vibey atmosphere in the Sustainable Living Exhibition, a more serious discussion on living beyond water shortages ensued in the Coast of Dreams on Friday, 14 August 2015. As part of the Exhibition, eThekweni Municipality hosted an open forum discussion aimed to mobilise stakeholders to actively participate in shaping innovation and proactive solutions to deal with the water shortage in KZN.

Experts from Umgeni Water, the Water Research Commission, the Durban Chamber of Commerce and eThekweni Municipality led the discussion. Dr Stanley Liphadzi, Water Research Commission said that research as the foundation to all planning is critical to assess the water situation and develop strategies to respond to and achieve water security. He indicated that through research scientists found that summer rainfall has been decreasing substantially for the past 20 years, which has led to the current drought. He urged government to use research available and to conduct further research that will impact water availability.

Gospel talent search auditions extended

DUE to high demand, the Municipality has added four new sites for Gospel Icons Discovery Talent Search auditions.

The four additional venues include; Hammarsdale and Inchanga Community Halls on 13 September 2015 and Folweni and Umkhomazi Community Halls on 19 September 2015.

To accommodate the extension, the Grand Finale has also been moved to 04 October 2015 at Ohlange Sports Ground."

The Gospel Icons Discovery Talent Search is an initiative aimed at giving upcoming gospel artists an opportunity to launch their careers.

City invests R101m in new trading stalls

TRADE: The newly revamped trading facilities at KwaJeena provide traders a user-friendly and conducive trading environment.

Pictures: LINDANI NSINDANE

THE MUNICIPALITY handed over trading stalls which will improve conditions of street traders of KwaJeena in uMlazi last month.

Thandiwe Chiliza (59) who has been trading for over 16 years said trading facilities will grow her business.

She said they used to trade under very difficult circumstances. When it rained or cold they would have to pack their things and go home without any profit.

"We also used to walk long distances transporting our goods with trolleys to the warehouse and carrying it back again in the morning. We now lock our goods inside the stalls since there is also 24 hour security within the yard," said Chiliza.

Mamsie Shangase, one of the new traders, is proud to have received a trading facility.

"I am grateful that I am already seeing benefits of my business. The trading facilities will help us grow our businesses beyond street trading. The business is really good as we have a taxi rank and some schools nearby," she said.

The development is part of the City's programme to develop decent street trading facilities to contribute to urban management and regulation.

Deputy Mayor Nomvuzo Shabalala said informal traders can no longer be considered as a temporary phenomenon as they contribute to the City's economy: "The City realised that the sector plays a central role in tackling poverty which is why we set aside R101million last year to improve the working condition of informal traders in order to formalise the sector."

"The Municipality is building formal structures for traders with sanitation facilities, electricity, water and security. This project will have a great impact on street traders because the improved trading conditions will attract more customers and they will be able to trade under any weather conditions," said Shabalala. She added that they will continue developing this sector as it is growing fast with 42,700 registered informal traders. Beside the provision of infrastructure, the municipality runs programmes to train and develop informal traders in the fields of business and financial management in order to grow their businesses. The project is ongoing in other areas.

City hopeful for Commonwealth

WE'RE READY: Durban has suitable facilities for its international visitors.

Picture: SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

NONDUMISO MBUYAZI

THE World-class facilities are ready, the people of Durban are all geared up and rearing to go and the City has been given the all-important boost from the Commonwealth Games Federation.

The one thing that remains is for Durban to be officially announced as the host City for the 2022 Commonwealth Games.

With a week to go before Commonwealth Games Federation (CGF) members award the hosting rights to the XXII Commonwealth Games, the excitement in Durban is palpable.

EThekwini Mayor, Councillor James Nxumalo, said he was confident that come September 2, Durban will be announced as the host City. "With its world-class facilities, outstanding accommodation and venues, and proven ability to host major international sports events – many held for the first time on African soil - Durban is the ideal City to host the 2022 Commonwealth Games," he said.

Speaking before he, and a team of council officials head off to New Zealand for the final announcement, Nxumalo said he will take the spirit of Durban with him.

Hosting the games will give people of Durban a rare opportunity to be dazzled and wowed by international sports stars.

Leading up to the September 2 announcement, the City will host several pre and post host city announcement activities, including a send-off prayer. A stage will be set up at New Beach where the live proceeding in New Zealand will be televised. "As we prepare to head off to New Zealand for the announcement, we urge the people of Durban to continue supporting the City and the bid," said Nxumalo.

KwaMashu area to get super depot valued at R195m

SABATHA NGUBANE and RODNEY MOORE

THE Municipality's Executive Committee has taken the decision to invest R195 million in the construction of a new super depot in KwaMashu.

This super depot, part of the city's Integrated Rapid Public Transport Network (IRPTN), would accommodate a fleet of minimum size of 170 equivalent 19 metre single articulated buses. It will have the following facilities; administration and accommodation for operator support staff and drivers; refuelling station and storage facilities, washing, cleaning and drying facility for bus bodies and a workshop for mechanical repairs and general maintenance.

The first corridor under construction for the IRPTN, the C3 corridor will run from Bridge City, in KwaMashu to Pinetown CBD.

The decision taking by the Executive Committee on Tuesday, 18/08/2015, will see the super depot built, with three smaller feeder depots.

Originally the plan was to have six small feeder depots. However this would have driven up costs unnecessarily as each depot would have duplicated offices, workshops and general infrastructure at depots.

The operational requirements for Corridors C1, C9 and C3 require a base depot in the vicinity of Bridge City being the main intermodal and transfer terminal for this region.

Loeries give back to community

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

THE 37th Annual Loeries Africa and the Middle East Awards that were hosted in Durban on Saturday, 15 August 2015 for the very first time last week were a huge success. The industry's creative were not the only winners as five learners received bursaries to study Brand Communication at the Vega School of Brand Leadership and Communication and at the Design School South Africa.

The scholarship to the value of R 1 million comes from the Loeries Future Creative Fund that is aimed at assisting learners to study brand communication at tertiary level.

The Loeries will take place in Durban for the next three years and they are expected to generate R100 million per year. Speaker Cllr Logie Naidoo, said the Durban is a perfect venue to host the Loeries. "The venue we offered the Loeries, the Durban ICC allowed them to increase the number of participants from 16 000 to 20 000 and all the events are taking place at a central venue," said Naidoo.

City policy to support veterans

CHARMEL PAYET

A POLICY for Veterans' Support Framework was submitted to the Executive Committee on Tuesday, 18 August 2015.

It was recommended that the policy be presented to Full Council for approval.

The policy would ensure all military veterans, not just MK veterans, would receive assistance from the EThekwini Municipality.

This support would include housing, facilitation of job placement, skills development and training, access to municipal health services, facilitation of or advice on business opportunities and any other support needed.

City Manager Sibusiso Sithole said the Municipality would be working with other government departments to provide the service.

"We intend setting up an office in EThekwini to ensure veterans can access this service," he said.

Deputy Mayor Nomvuzo Shabalala recommended that a stakeholder summit be convened to ensure that views of all stakeholders are considered.

Women moving eThekwinini forward

NONDUDUZO NGCONGO and PAPAMA DUNSULA

THE increasing number of women making inroads into business leadership and taking the lead in previously male dominated sectors is one of the reasons that motivate government to provide more platforms to fast track their growth.

This emerged during the eThekwinini Municipality's 9th Women Economic Empowerment Conference which was themed Enhancing the Economic Empowerment of Women at Inkosi Albert Luthuli International Convention Centre on 6 August 2015.

Deputy Minister of Administration and Public Services Ayanda Dlodlo said she was impressed by the outstanding attendance which proved that eThekwinini women want to be part of the change. She said: "Government has made significant progress in empowering women by developing policies and programmes for their growth."

Dlodlo said research reveals that there is progress as women who have entered previously male dominated areas in the corporate world, currently constitute 3.6% of Chief Executive Officer (CEO) positions, 5.5% of chairperson positions, 17.1% of directorships and 21.4% of executive management positions.

There was much interest in Hlengiwe Makhathini of the National Empowerment Fund who presented the Women Empowerment Fund (WEF) which funds companies with a minimum of 40% of enterprises owned and managed by black women with funding from R250 000- R75 million.

attendees, Dionne Myeza of eSpanini Health Services Company said: "I now have ideas on how to creatively improve my business and it is all thanks to the Municipality for organising this information and idea sharing platform."

WOMEN of ward 31 were given a unique opportunity at learning an alternate way of cooking, without using electricity.

Councillor Fawzia Peer of Ward 31 and member of the City's Executive Committee organised a cooking class using tin cans on 6 August 2015. The session was held at Sukyo Mahikari, a spiritual and environmentally-conscious organisation based in Glenwood. Councillor Peer explained: "As part of Women's Month, I decided to undertake this particular programme because it is an alternative as not all residents of the informal settlement have access to electricity." The product is made up of two tin cans of different sizes inserted into each other.

Holes are then created around the can to allow oxygen to travel in and out of the cans.

Thereafter it is secured together and pine pellets are used to keep the flame alive for approximately 45 minutes.

This ensures enough cooking time with no fumes or smoke emanating from the cans. Robin Maharaj from Sukyo Mahikari said the upliftment of communities is integral to the organisations mission.

MAYOR James Nxumalo has applauded the three-day Maidens Conference hosted by the eThekwinini Municipality in partnership with the KwaZulu-Natal Department of Arts and Culture at eGcekeni Primary School in Shongweni Dam.

The conference, held from 7 to 9 August was a build-up to the Reed Dance held at King Goodwill Zwelithini's eNyokeni Palace in September. It was attended by more than 2000 maidens from all 103 eThekwinini wards. Nxumalo said the conference was a very important gathering as it afforded the City a chance to properly send-off maidens who are going to the Reed Dance. "These young women are flowers of the nation, the future of this country. We are very proud of them."

He said education was the only tool that would make them future leaders of the country. "In you I see mayors, doctors, engineers and scientist. All of this is possible if you do well in school."

Nxumalo said the Province and the Municipality wants zero new infections in HIV and Aids. "You can help us achieve this by abstaining from sex as you are already doing." The event was co-ordinated by the Municipality's Community Participation and Action Support Unit.

City will empower women to bridge existing gender gap

ROMITA HANUMAN

THE City has embarked on programmes to empower and retain women within Council. Between 2013-2015, 24 females compared to nine males were promoted to Professional Skilled levels.

Currently within Council, women make up 35% of the workforce and at Top and Senior Management levels males dominate at 73%," said the City's Human Resources Head Kim Makhathini.

Makhathini said the Municipality is working on Gender Equality (GE) programme and has developed a strategy that will ensure that it achieves its vision for GE, whereby all men and women working within the organisation, and living within the City have equal opportunities.

Deputy Mayor Nomvuzo Shabalala said the City has made great strides in empowering women. "The women of today will not tolerate discrimination," she said.

Below is some information that shows the gender disparity and the City's success rate in bridging the gap over the past two years:

- 4 females vs 5 males promoted to Top Management
- 10 females vs 10 males promoted to Senior Management
- 24 females vs 9 males promoted to Professional skilled
- 3 females vs 6 males at Top Management

- 6 females vs 12 males at Senior Management
- 15 females vs 33 males at Professionally skilled
- 30 females vs 80 males trained in Adult Basic Education
- 33 females vs 12 males in Learnership
- 250 Females vs 130 Males for Work Experience
- 422 females vs 558 males in Skills Programmes.

TO mark the 59th annual Women's Day, women, young and old from different areas of KwaXimba gathered at the Inkosi Mlaba Indoor Sport Centre.

The purpose of the event was to promote a healthy lifestyle to the elderly as well as women while paying homage to women.

Ward Councillor Bongumusa Mkhize said "This is the day where we say thank you to those women who fought tirelessly against the Apartheid government."

Mkhize said South Africa was free today because of the bravery of the likes of Lilian Ngoyi who led the march, Helen Joseph, Albertina Sisulu and Sophia Williams-De Bruyn and many others who rose up against the legislation that required black South Africans to carry the 'pass'.

The holiday commemorates the national march of women on this day in 1956 to petition against legislation that required African people to carry the 'pass'. Nozipho Msomi, a Community Development Worker (CDW) said, "Today we are making awareness on drug abuse especially, whoonga. We are encouraging the youth to prioritise education and sports."

RESIDENTS of Klaarwater Community Residential Units (CRU) will now be able to live in a more safer and cleaner environment, thanks to a clean-up of an illegal dump around the CRU on Sunday 16 August 2015. The clean-up, part of the Clean and Maintain My City Programme, was organised by Ward 17 Councillor, Nomvula Shembe in partnership with municipal departments and community members. Cllr Shembe encouraged the community to clean and maintain their environment in order to prevent diseases caused by dirt: "Today we mark a new beginning and as residents of Klaarwater CRU, we commit to keeping this place clean." Shembe said CRU are no longer places for men who come to the City to seek employment, but homes for the whole family. "That is why the Municipality is spending millions in refurbishing hostels and turning them into Community Residential Units," she said. Prince Nhlanganiso Zulu, diagnosed with TB in 2010, said that he was very happy to be part of the clean-up. "As the champion of TB in KwaZulu-Natal, such programmes are very close to my heart. I urge all of you to ensure that you keep this place clean so that you can avoid getting ill," he said.

A JOINT clean-up operation which was conducted at Hambanathi Township in ward 62 proved that co-operation of various stakeholders can make communities litter-free.

Residents including the Speaker Logie Naidoo, KwaZulu-Natal member of the provincial legislature, Lindiwe Bebee, municipal departments, Her Life Ministries Church members, local non-profit organisations and military veterans participated in the clean-up, in celebration of the women's day. The Douglas Saunders Community Park and Her Life Ministries Church were the community facilities which benefited from the clean-up. "The participation of residents in keeping their areas clean is a clear indication that no one is willing to live in a dirty place. Community members must also own the initiative in order to build a civic pride and a long term strategy to deliver a sustainable clean and environmentally friendly City," said Speaker, Logie Naidoo. He said the City is mobilising all sectors of the community to be involved in the Clean and Maintain My City programme in order to fight littering and other social ills.

MAYOR James Nxumalo has assured residents of KwaNdlanzi in Ward 43 that the Municipality was committed to service delivery and would respond to their concerns. Nxumalo was addressing residents at a report back meeting held at Sithembile Primary School in Ntuzuma last week. The report back meeting is whereby the Municipality reports back on concerns raised by residents in meetings and via memorandums. The programme is also used to inform communities about upcoming projects in their areas and progress on existing ones. It also affords the public a platform to raise their concerns to the Mayor and Municipal officials in order to strengthen community participation on matters pertaining to service delivery. Nxumalo said "If there are areas where we are not doing well as the Municipality we need to know about it so we can correct. We are your government and you need to be part of it." Nxumalo who was accompanied by Ward 43 Councillor Dumisani Mabizela started the day by visiting the Ngcobo and Ntuli families. "We have seen the unbearable conditions that our people live under. We will do everything possible to correct this. "We are here to listen to your concerns and I want to assure you we take them very seriously" added Nxumalo. Issues that dominated the meeting pertained to housing, electricity, ablution infrastructure and roads. "We are aware that there are houses which have been handed over to people that have no proper infrastructure. We are correcting that," said Nxumalo. Oscar Kunene from the City's Human Settlement

Department Unit said about 880 houses have been built in the area and by the end of 2016 about 2500 units would have been completed. "At the moment we are putting basic services like electricity, water and toilets inside houses." Thabani Ngcobo, a resident of the area said he had very high hopes in government and the services it provides, "We can see the projects that have already started and they are promising, we are happy as this will better the lives of people." themba.khumalo@durban.gov.za siyabonga.ndlela@durban.gov.za

City acts on residents' grievances

PRINCESS NKABANE

ETHEKWINI Mayor James Nxumalo was dismayed to hear that on Monday, 17 August 2015, in the Effingham area, some residents blockaded roads and vandalised Municipal property amid complains that the promise to electrify their homes was not kept by the City. The group allegedly burnt a tyre inside another resident's home. They claimed that the City is not communicating with them. City representatives, who attended to the matter said the City was committed to electrifying the houses, explaining that there were procedures to be followed. The representatives said the Housing Unit had to number the houses before the installation of electricity. Electrification had already commenced in other parts of Ward 34, which incorporates Effingham, Jamaica and Zakhele.

dwelling. Temporary accommodation was provided for more than 520 families affected by that fire, but space constraints on the site led to approximately 180 families remaining in the community hall. EThekwini Municipality is working with Provincial Department of Human Settlements to supply families with materials to re-build their dwellings. The City's last reported fire was at Kennedy Road informal settlement on 29 July 2015, affecting 33 families. Disaster Management Unit was on site to provide emergency relief supplies.

KwaMashu

Electrification in Effingham was scheduled to begin next month. The Mayor condemned the vandalism of Municipal property and other Municipal assets. He urged members of the community to raise their concerns through appropriate channels so that they can be addressed amicably without resorting to violence. The Mayor has prioritised a visit to the area to address the residents' concerns.

On the 8 and 9 August, the residents of KwaMashu J and K sections felt the City had not kept its promise to build them houses. The community felt neglected by the Municipality as their neighbouring townships did not have a similar problem. The KwaMashu J and K sections are a priority to the City and have been identified for a housing project development. A meeting was held in January 2015 with the Ward Committee members and the community of KwaMashu J and K sections, who were all looking forward to the development. The Municipality is committed to its housing development programme and has been engaging other levels of government to facilitate other ways of funding and speeding up the implementation of housing developments in the City.

The City is aware of the protest which took place on Monday, 17 August 2015. The demands of the community are linked to a fire which occurred last year, affecting more than 700

Clermont entrepreneurs ready

THE City's decision to expand Regional Business Fairs to other areas is providing an excellent platform to profile economic activities of people staying in townships and rural areas. These sentiments were expressed by Councillor Sifiso Zungu of Ward 20 while gearing up to host the first ever Regional Business Fair to take place at Clermont Sports Auditorium, starting on Friday 21 August to Sunday 23 August 2015. The Fair will expose about 100 small businesses coming from all six wards in the zone. The Fair will include information sharing session, networking between small and established entrepreneurs, access to finance and other topics. "We have so much talent and products that we want to showcase to the rest of eThekwini. Therefore we welcomed this initiative with open arms," said Zungu. Sbu Mthembu of Clermont Community Tourism Organisation said they will also use this platform to present their proposed tourism attraction ideas, such as an Adventure Site and Museum in Clermont to prominent speakers and government departments. Director of Clermont Cyber Café Wanda Nsindane said: "I am extremely excited that the City is providing such opportunities for us." Nsindane added that as the first time exhibitor he is looking forward to meeting new clients, networking and learning from established businesses. Entrance to the Exhibition and Business Indaba is free. Residents and aspiring entrepreneurs are encouraged to visit the Fair. nonduduzo.ngcongo@durban.gov.za papama.duntsula@durban.gov.za

R460-million facelift for Isipingo Town Centre

NONDUMISO MBUYAZI

THE eThekweni Municipality has embarked on a multi-million rand plan to revitalize the Isipingo Town Centre and unlock the area's full economic potential.

The upgrade, expected to cost around R460-million, is part of the municipality's urban regeneration plan funded jointly by the eThekweni Municipality and National Treasury.

Project Manager Vuyo Jayiya said the regeneration sought to make the town centre more functional in terms of linking all economic activities.

"We want to retain the current business and create opportunity for expansion of business into the town centre. The character of the economy here is retail and transportation," he said.

"We had to cater for current day demands. We don't want to introduce a solution that is alien to what is currently happening in the area. That meant improving the transport links and providing better facilities for motorists, traders and pedestrians."

The project, over 6 999sq/m, includes upgrading trading facilities and a multi-purpose centre that will provide retail and office facilities, public parking and a new taxi rank.

In addition to municipal offices, the four-storey Isipingo Junction will house the departments of Labour, Home Affairs, Housing, the Post Office, SASSA offices, and facilities for SMME retailers.

The Isipingo Junction is expected to cost around R400-million.

The three-phase project began in 2012 is on track for completion by 2018.

Thus far, R30-million has been spent on the project with infrastructure taking up the chunk of the budget.

Jaiya said the development was expected to have major socio-economic spinoffs for both budding and established entrepreneurs.

The second phase of the project that includes upgrades to roads, storm water drainage, sanitation, street lighting and CCTV masts in Pardy, Alexander and Hillview roads would be completed by this September.

"Next year there will be no construction. We will be busy with acquisition of land."

The final Phase 3 will begin in 2017.

Developments in the town centre will also include pedestrian walkways, paved sidewalks, new roads and 25 new parking bays to cater for the expected influx.

The upgrades will have new and modern sheltered sites to accommodate 233 traders.

A successful career expo was held at the Durban University of Technology (DUT) and comes at a time where the country is facing skills shortage in many sectors. The Human Resources Projects, EThekweni Municipal Academy showcased the opportunities available at the Municipality. Minehle Scott manned the HR Projects Stand at the Expo and said

"We have created a database of students as engineering is seen as a scarce skill. Many students have enquired about in-service training and other post-graduate opportunities. We have also educated and informed them about the advantages of utilising e-Careers." The EMA stand was a hive of activity with students flocking to ask about in-service training from various.

2014/15 Capital spend at 105%

ROMITA HANUMAN

THE Municipality has been a frontrunner of accelerated service delivery for many years. This was proven once again as the overall R5.961 billion capital budget for the 2014/15 financial year reflected a 105% spend on the original budget.

Chairperson of the Finance and Procurement Committee, Councillor Fawzia Peer commended the City Manager Sibusiso Sithole: "For ensuring that we sustain and improve the levels of delivery. This included weekly monitoring of the top 150 capital projects conducted by the City Manager. Additionally, procurement plans are in place for every capital project."

Some highlights of the capital spend for 2014/15 include over 5000 houses being built. The capacity to provide water services effectively and efficiently is critical in the delivery of sustainable basic services. A positive indication of delivering quality efficient services can be found in the awarding of the Blue Drop status to the municipality. Within the 2014/15 financial year, 14 245 customers have been provided access to water services.

Over 14000 electricity connections have also been made and from a transport perspective, 20.2km of gravel roads were upgraded to asphalt road surfacing. This exceeds the target of 17 km.

Sandile Mnguni, Head of Expenditure said: "We are pleased with the figures from the 2014/15 financial year and will continue to accelerate service delivery to communities. A good indicator of the success and service delivery is the City's capital expenditure."

Maritime school recognises the Municipality

THEMBA KHUMALO and LWAZI MZOBE

THE Maritime, Business and Computer College (MBCC) has presented eThekweni Municipality with a special recognition award. The City was offered the award during the graduation of the MBCC's class of 2014 at Greyville Racecourse.

Accepting the award on behalf of the City, Mayoral advisor Zakes Nkosi said the Municipality was honoured to be recognised by MBCC. He said, "The Municipality has made significant strides in pursuit of good governance. We are very proud of what we have achieved thus far."

He said the Municipality's Internal Audit Unit, working together with the Auditor General will continue to work closely in an effort to achieve good governance and clean administration in the City.

The Unit has consolidated all issues that have been reported at the Audit Committee meetings in order to track progress made in resolving these issues, said Nkosi.

MBCC's CEO, Jay Ramakison, said the award was given to the Municipality because it subscribed to good governance practices.

Durban gears up to host 2015 Durban Business Fair

NONDUDUZO NGCONGO and PAPAMA DUNTSULA

THE core role played by small businesses in alleviating poverty and tackling unemployment are the key reasons the City continues to host the Durban Business Fair (DBF) each year.

The City is gearing up to host the 17th DBF on 13-18 October at Durban Exhibition Centre under the theme Connecting Durban Business Fair Globally and is inviting all businesses to register early if they want to be part of the longest existing business trade exhibition in Africa.

Deputy Mayor Nomvuzo Shabalala said: "The DBF attracts more than 15 000 visitors across Africa therefore it is the great instrument for every small business to be exposed, market their products, source relevant information that can grow their business, create business linkages and source potential buyers."

She said that this year's DBF will be at another level as they partnered with the City leadership and international delegates who attended the Durban Business Fair last year. The Municipality gears up to host another successful exhibition this year to continue exposing small business products to a number of local and international potential buyers.

City of New Orleans in the United State of America (USA) to bring the biggest three day Essence Empowerment Festival to run concurrently with the DBF programme. This will boost local vendors as a certain

City's water master-class a success for SA and Liberia

JESSIE SINGH

IN its effort to raise awareness on the current drought and to solve the current water crisis, the eThekweni Municipality, hosted its first Continuing Professional Development (CPD) accredited Master Class.

The aim of the class is to equip municipal officials across South Africa and a delegation from Liberia about the benefits of good practices in water and sanitation.

About 60 technical practitioners from South African Municipalities, Local Government Organisations, Provincial and National Departments of Water and Sanitation and a delegation from Paynesville City Corporation (Liberia) attended the course held in partnership with the South African Local Government Association.

The three-day Master Class was developed by the eThekweni's award winning Water and Sanitation Unit (EWS) to provide participants with the knowledge and tools on how to best alleviate water and sanitation challenges in rural and urban areas, showcasing eThekweni's best practices in the sector.

Participants were taken on site-visits to better understand the type of infrastructure that eThekweni has in place in Newlands, Mzinyathi, Dewats plant and community gardens.

The touring team also visited the Tongaat Treatment and Waste Water Works plant.

Valo Govender, who works for KZN Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs said that people tend to take water and sanitation for granted yet there are communities who are struggling to achieve basic hygiene standards. "This type of workshop can be used as a yard-stick on the progress that eThekweni Municipality is making in building a healthy environment for its communities," he said.

City Celebrates Arbor Week

CHARMEL PAYET

THE EThekweni Municipality's planned Arbor Week celebrations from Tuesday, 1 to Monday, 7 September 2015 provides an ideal opportunity for all residents to recommit themselves to caring for the environment, particularly the conservation of trees.

Arbour Day is celebrated annually to raise awareness of urban and rural greening initiatives while promoting a better understanding of trees, particularly indigenous trees and fruit trees.

The Municipality will be greening 100 homes in Kwa-Makutha by planting trees. The residents will be trained on how to care for the trees. Members of the public and schools are encouraged to contact the Parks Department head office on 031 322

4000 for assistance to green their homes by planting trees. The Parks Department will first do an assessment and if approved, a maximum of five trees will be donated for planting. Other events include the launch of the Forest of Remembrance at Adams Mission. The venue will have hiking trails and will be promoted as a tourist destination. The Durban Forest Publication will also be launched during Arbor Week. Durban will also be hosting the prestigious World Forestry Congress from Monday, 7 to Friday, 11 September 2015. The official launch of Arbour Week will be at Botanical Gardens on Tuesday, 1 September hosted by the National Minister of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries.

ETHEKWINI Municipality in partnership with the KZN Provincial Government departments led a candlelight memorial to commemorate those who died from HIV/AIDS related diseases at the Inkosi Albert Luthuli Hospital on Friday, 14 August 2015.

Addressing attendees at the memorial, Mayor James Nxumalo said the memorial hosted was part of the Operation Sukuma Sakhe programme.

Nxumalo said: "While we have a high number of people infected with HIV/AIDS, we have made significant progress in the reduction of new infections and treatment programmes."

He said through collective efforts against the disease, about 2.5 million South Africans are receiving effective HIV treatment. Last year,

Save lives by becoming an organ donor

ROMITA HANUMAN

DID YOU know that one organ donor can save seven lives? Have you registered to become an organ donor? August is National Organ Donor Awareness Month and according to statistics, there are about 4300 South African adults and children that are awaiting a life-saving organ or cornea transplant. Although South Africa is a world leader in the field of organ transplantation, the number of patients awaiting transplants continues to increase while the serious shortage of potential donors remains a great concern.

Various organs and tissue from the body can be transplanted. The heart, liver and pancreas can save three lives while kidneys and lungs can help up to four people. In addition, if you are an organ donor, you can help up to 50 people by donating your corneas, skin, bone and heart valves.

What you need to know about organ donation

- If you are an organ donor, make sure you inform your family
- Anyone can become an organ donor. Age, race or health status is not a factor
- Organ donation is free and your family is not paid for the organs you donate

Committed to women empowerment

TWENTY-one years into democracy, our government continues to drive us in the direction of empowering women to position themselves in building the South Africa economy and business sphere.

James Nxumalo

role of women in our communities, the Municipality coordinates numerous initiatives to empower them with the knowledge and skills they need to bring about change.

In the past eight years, our Municipality has invested more than R30 million in women empowerment programmes and other business support development programmes.

As we celebrate national Women's Month this month, I am reminded of the pivotal role played by women in the fight for gender equality which was inextricably linked to the fight for racial equality. These heroines were also stalwarts of the political struggle and through the processes of political change; they brought about changes on how society should view women.

Women are the pillars of our society and our Municipality recognises the important role they play in our communities and business sectors. Our Municipality also acknowledges their valuable contribution not only in the home environment but in the growth of our country. Women in our country have always been at the forefront of the pursuit of equal rights during the liberation struggle.

The City works closely with women's groups to ensure that their needs as a stakeholder are known and addressed through our Council programmes. To enhance the grammes include construction, information and communication technology sector as well as maritime sector programmes that provide training and mentorship, fashion development events where well-known local and international fashion designers share a platform showcasing their exclusive collections and expertise.

We are proud of our Municipality because it plays a developmental role as reflected in the City's Integrated Development Plan, the Provincial Growth and Development Plan and the National Development Plan.

Also, the 50 Year Plan for Women Economic Emancipation came at a time when the country required commitment and willingness from women to take it upon them to shape the economic future of the country as and how they wish it to evolve.

We are proud of the maturity of our institutions and the continued growth and resilience of our City and its people. This milestone signals radical transformation of local government to create equity. Our Municipality requests partnerships with women to ensure economic and social transformation.

Clean up after collisions

Whose job is it to clean up an accident scene after a collision? I refer specifically to scenes on the freeways and residential roads. Metro Police, Fire and Emergency Services and Disaster Management and Emergency Control attend the scene, but leave hurriedly without cleaning up. Motorists still see clues on the road that indicate how bad the accident was. One can also find sand, debris, vehicle parts, grass, tree branches, cargo, etc. This is extremely unpleasant. Where are they really rushing to so quickly after the ambulance and tow trucks have left?

DURBAN'S CATALYSTIC PROJECTS POISED TO STIMULATE JOB GROWTH

EThekweni Municipality's official unemployment rate is the lowest in the country, according to the Quarterly Labour Force Survey for the second quarter of 2015 released by Statistics South Africa.

EThekweni Municipality's official unemployment rate is 16,5 percent and is the lowest in the country, according to the Quarterly Labour Force Survey for the second quarter of 2015 released by Statistics South Africa.

EThekweni is followed by Cape Town, which recorded an official unemployment rate of 22,6 percent.

The Stats SA report published on Wednesday, 29 July 2015, states that the number of employed people increased to 198 000, while unemployment declined by 305 000, on a quarterly basis. The increase in the number of employed people was observed in the Community and social services, Construction and Trade industries. Job losses were recorded in the Finance, Manufacturing and Agriculture industries.

Employment increased in six of the nine provinces in the second quarter and the largest gains in employment were recorded in Gauteng (167 000), Limpopo (79 000) and KwaZulu-Natal (75 000).

In eThekweni Municipality, the official unemployment rate is 16,5 percent, while the expanded unemployment rate, which relaxes the requirement for job-seekers to be classified as unemployed, is 26,3 percent.

Despite job losses in some sectors as indicated by the Stats SA survey, the Municipality is actively promoting, attracting and supporting business investment into the City.

The Economic Development and Investment Promotion Unit is responsible for the facilitation, development and implementation of the municipality's sector development programme.

Mayor James Nxumalo said the sector development programme seeks to improve job creation in line with the City approved and adopted Economic Development and Job Creation Strategy, which require the city to create approximately 23 000 net additional jobs, accelerate and sustain economic growth of between 4 to 7 percent per annum between 2013 to 2018.

The strategy also requires our City to reduce inequality from 0.62 to 0.58 percent by 2018.

"Achieving these development goals require a concerted effort, investment and support from all the economic actors in eThekweni to transform, develop, grow and strengthen the economy.

This will be achieved through the development of productive capacity and capabilities within prioritised and targeted sectors, while enhancing growth, investment, competitiveness, economic transformation and improving entrepreneurship as well as the quality of globally competitive businesses," said Nxumalo.

The development and implementation of the interventions necessary for stimulating economic growth and job creation require strong and effective platforms based on partnership with industry, business, and organised labour and civil society.

Nxumalo said that as part of strategy implementation framework, the current Durban Investment Dashboard for the City of Durban catalogues over 65 active flagship projects, with a cumulative value in excess of R620 billion.

These have the potential to produce over 600 000 permanent jobs, and over R8 billion in new rates revenue for the Municipality.

"These projects span a whole host of key sectors including maritime and logistics, manufacturing, agribusiness, tourism, property development, Information and communications technology (ICT) and Electronics and Green Economy projects," added Nxumalo.

The port of Durban performs a critical role within the City of Durban in terms of job creation. It services the country's second largest industrial and commercial region, Gauteng and neighbouring countries.

By 2030 eThekweni will be Africa's most caring and liveable city

City to build a world class sport hub

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

IN KEEPING with the City's vision to create an all-inclusive sports hub, the Municipality in partnership with the Provincial government and Hoy Park Management will start building a world class multi million rand International Training Centre and Provincial Football Academy at the Kings Park precinct before the end of the year.

This centre, the first of its kind in Africa, will have a football training academy, a high performance centre, medical and recreational facilities.

The City Manager, Sibusiso Sithole said it was very important for the City to build a post 2010 legacy and a facility that will catapult the City to become a sport capital of the world.

"The Municipality consummated an agreement with Hoy Park Management and it was fully supported by the Executive Committee in October last year. Our bigger objective is that eThekweni should bid for the Olympics, all that will mean we need to create a conducive environment for sport development," said Sithole.

The construction of this centre will create jobs and boost the City's sport tourism. "This will in turn benefit the local communities, as a large portion of the vacancies will be filled by people from around eThekweni Municipality and the KwaZulu-Natal Province.

Artistic impressions of the state-of-the-art KZN Training Centre and Football Academy.

Youth from local Universities and Technical Colleges will be recruited to render their services to the Centre."

The City Manager further mentioned that specialists in the fields of Sports Psychology, Nutrition, Biokineticists; Physical Training and Physiotherapy will also be sourced locally as well as Administration, Financial, Grounds-men, Maintenance, Cleaning, Laundry and Catering personnel that will be required for the Centre's day-to-day operation.

As the Centre will be in close proximity with the iconic Moses Mabhida Stadium, the Growth Point Stadium, the Kings Park Swimming Pool and Athletics Stadium, athletes and sports personnel will be able to move around the venues with ease, attracting local, national and international athletes into the City for their pre, during and post season training sessions.

The estimated cost of the entire project is R300 million and will be constructed over a three-year period. The City has committed to contribute R22.5 million (R7.5m over a three year period). The Provincial Government and other sponsors will cover the balance of the costs.

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

THE Durban Under 19 International Football Tournament was once again a huge success, with excellent football played by some of the top junior players in the world. English giants Arsenal were crowned the 2015 champions after a 2-1 victory over Dutch side PSV Eindhoven in the final at the Moses Mabhida Stadium.

The tournament was in its second year, with the inaugural winners being Brazilian side Santos, who defeated Portuguese club Benfica 2-0 in the final. The victory was well-deserved for an Arsenal side who entertained with some brilliant and skilful football through the tournament.

The South African Under-19 side provided some joy for local fans when they claimed third place with a 2-0 win over German Bundesliga side Stuttgart. But the day belonged to Arsenal-who missed a penalty during the game - as they became the second champions of what is now one of the most prestigious junior football tournaments on the international calendar.

Deputy City Manager, Musa Gumede said the success of the tournament proved that Durban was indeed capable of hosting major events.

"We want to commend the organising team for staging a successful tournament," said Gumede.

EThekweni behind the Springboks

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

THE people of eThekweni will have an opportunity to see the Springboks train on Friday before they leave the country for the 2015 Rugby World Cup that is scheduled to take place from 18 September to 31 October 2015 in England.

The open training session will take place at Moses Mabhida Stadium on Friday 21 August 2015 at 14h00. The Springboks are in Pool B pitted against Samoa, Scotland, Japan and the United States. Their first game is on 19 September against Japan at Brighton Community Stadium.

The Mayor James Nxumalo said the recent hurdles shouldn't stand in the way of the Springboks being crowned world champions.

"We learn a little from victory, much from defeat. We have no doubt that you will go on to win the World Cup. The City of Durban and its people are behind South Africa's most inspirational team. Whenever you are playing, remember that you have a home ground advantage because of the undying support of the people of this beautiful and warm City," said Nxumalo.
